MTO jobs jump up

Monday confab set on utility program

Machinery started rolling early Monday toward actual construction of a sewerage system in Bay St. Louis, following voters' approval of a $3 million bond issue to finance it and improve the water and gas systems, when Mayor John A. Scaffide called a meeting for next Monday between Commission Council and consulting engineers William E. Johnson of Jackson and Owen and White, Inc., Baton Rouge.

Goal for effective date of the half-cent sales tax increase was set for May 1 but mayor Scaffide said it would take about six months "or possibly less" before work could start on the utility systems.

City Attorney Dan M. Russell, Jr., said an enormous amount of work had to be completed on both measures with ordinances to be prepared and adopted, technical engineers' reports prepared, Chancery Court procedure on validation of the bonds, numbering and printing of bonds, legal advertising for their sale and for construction bids, etc.

Russell estimated the bond procedure would take about 60 days and Scaffide said the biggest project would be preparation of plans and specifications by engineers which would take the greater portion of time. Preliminary plans are already on file, he added, saying "we intend to expedite the details in every way possible so we can get construction under way as soon as humanly possible."

First step is adoption by Commission Council of a resolution approving and confirming election returns on the bond issue; then a resolution requesting bonds be issued at a later date; another calling for sale of the bonds and validation in Chancery Court. In the meantime and before any sale of bonds it will be necessary for the engineers to prepare final plans for the construction.

Employment at Mississippi Test Operations reached a new peak this week and indications are the upward spiral will continue through summer as construction moves toward completion. Bids on two jobs totaling just under $8 million were opened in the last week and are being evaluated prior to award. Work force count is now 947, topping last November's record of 890 and well ahead of last lighting, one and one-half miles of roads and parking area.

In addition to contractor personnel, breakdown of the MTO work force this week includes NASA 34, General Electric 78, GE sub-contractors 30, Corps of Engineers 126, Corps real estate office 37, Raytheon 8, weather bureau 7, security patrol 6, and one each for Boeing, North American Aviation and Svedrup and Parcel.

BULLETIN
A fiscal 1965 appropriation of $55,092,000 for construction of MTO yesterday passed the House of Representatives, according to a telegram from Fifth District Congressman William Colmer.

The amount is about $7,000,000 less than NASA had requested for MTO work during the year commencing July 1.

week's total of 869. Of the total 618 are contractor personnel, up from 549 last week.

An apparent low bid of $3,537,025 was submitted by a combine of Leslie Miller, Power Engineering Co., and Donovan Construction Co. for construction of a high pressure water and heating facility to provide cooling water for test stands and heat for buildings. Only other bid was $3,976,172 from Blunt Bros. of Montgomery, Ala. Government estimate for the work was $4,146,519.

Broadway Maintenance Corp. and Glantz Construction Corp. of Long Island City, N. Y., a joint venture, was apparently low among seven bidders on propellant facilities at the test site. This price was $4,397,000 against a government figure of $4,763,480. Work includes 17 miles of pipe lines for transporting various fuels and cryogenic materials, fuel storage tanks, two miles of rail lines,

Construction is scheduled to be completed in late July and installation of the dial equipment will start at once so service from the new building should begin in the fourth quarter of 1964.

The new Pearlington exchange will provide subscribers with the latest numbering plan of seven digit numbers using the prefix 533, Dabney said. This will enable users to have all new phone benefits including direct distance dialing. They presently only have a two-digit prefix. Subscribers from Pearlington will be a part of the Bay St. Louis exchange, just as Logtown was, he added.

In addition, considerable expansion is continuing at the Bay St. Louis exchange and of lines in the area, Dabney reported, to meet growing demands for service here. Size of the exchange building has been doubled and equipment is now being installed.

Two legs of wire are being installed—one in the Waveland area and the other along U.S. 90—each with 900 pairs of wire to meet current and future demands for service. Some are being put down in underground conduits.

Pearlton exchange is started

Construction has started on relocation of Southern Bell's Logtown telephone exchange building in Pearlton at a cost of about $160,000, J.C. Dabney, local manager for the phone company, announced this week.

A building is being erected on Seventh Avenue near Ninth Street in Pearlton to serve new applicants in and around Pearlton and subscribers in the area formerly served from the Logtown exchange which has to be discontinued to make way for NASA's Mississippi Test Operations.

Construction is scheduled to be completed in late July and installation of the dial equipment will start at once so service from the new building should begin in the fourth quarter of 1964.

The new Pearlington exchange will provide subscribers with the latest numbering plan of seven digit numbers using the prefix 533, Dabney said. Ten years' effort by Bay St. Louis mayor John A. Scaffide and commissioners J. Cyril Glover and Warren E. Traub came to a successful conclusion Saturday when voters approved by an almost two to one vote a $3 million bond issue to finance construction of a sewerage system and improvements to the water and gas systems. They also ratified a half-cent sales tax increase to finance the job.

Official vote on the bond issue was 767 for and 409 against while the sales tax carried 721 to 455. Only a simple majority was needed for both to carry.

A total of 1,185 votes were cast out of 1,775 voters in the city or roughly two-thirds of the qualified vote. A bond issue carried in North Bay precinct 490 to 210 for a 280 majority but opposition was stronger in South Bay, 277 to 199 for a slimmer margin of 78.

The sales tax carried South Bay by only 24 votes, result being 239 to 215 but fared better in North Bay, 482 to 240 for a 242-vote margin.

It was one of the biggest victories recorded at a special election for a bond issue and the largest issue ever proposed in Bay St. Louis.

Mayor Scaffide said Monday the victory was "a tribute to a concerted effort by a lot of people and a wonderful community effort." He predicted unlimited civic growth because of the improvements and credited women's civic organizations with a large share in the success for their work with voter lists and personal contact by telephone and canvassing.

6 candidates file in race for JP post

Six candidates qualified by the Monday deadline for the May 2 special election for Justice of Peace No. 1 in Beat 5 to fill the unexpired term of the late Peter Chincio, slayer field by two than competed in the first Democratic primary last August.

Unless one of the field captures a clear majority in the voting, a run-off election will be conducted between the top two finishers.

Seeking the office are Mrs. Bea-Georgi Albert Biehl, Nelius Rhodes who formerly held the post and lost in the run-off to Chincio last August, Lucien H. Raymond, Jr., who recently resigned as county surveyor to make the race, Carl R. Garcia and Richard K. Holmes.

Mishap on Rt. 43

Second traffic fatality of the year in Hancock County and first in the Mississippi Test Operations area occurred at 10 p.m. Monday when Thomas Grover McNeill, 47, a construction worker, was killed on Route 43 when struck and dragged 190 feet by a car driven by James B. Nutter, 29, a Picayune newspaperman, according to state patrolman Donald Pope and chief deputy sheriff Eldo DePre.

Nutter, who suffered a one-inch wrist cut, was booked on a charge of reckless driving and made $100 bond at the sheriff's office. A hearing before Beat 1 JP Lester Hoyer was set for 9 p.m. April 2 in the Courthouse.

According to investigating officers, McNeill was standing behind a two-and-a-half concrete truck while concrete was being poured on a construction project about a quarter mile north of the Hancock Bank branch at the test site.

The Nutter car, traveling north, sideswiped the left rear of the truck then struck McNeill who was apparently killed instantly, Pope said.

Witnesses reported, the patrolman said, that the Nutter car was travelling at a proper rate of speed when it passed two automobiles at Devil Mar's Curve, about a mile before the scene of the mishap. A car was moving in the opposite direction at the time of the crash, Pope continued. The concrete truck was said to be parked partly on and off the pavement on the east side of the highway.

Hoyer ruled death due to a traffic accident following an inquest conducted in Riemann's Fahey-Whitfield Funeral Home. The body was later transferred to Harris Funeral Home at Logtown, where McNeill had resided and worked for Gulf Concrete Co. He had been living at a Picayune motel while working on the NASA project.

Rescue SSC pair in sinking skiff

Two 15-year-old St. Stanislaus College boarders were rescued from a sinking skiff Saturday about two miles off shore in front of the school in less than an hour after their plight was reported, local Civil Defense director Herbert Stiefel reported.

Stiefel said the boys, Robert Woods and Mike Evans, were apparently blown out by a strong north wind. When found their skiff had filled with water, within inches of sinking, and their only means of propulsion was stronger in South Bay, 277 to 199 for a slimmer margin of 78.

Kindergarten has show for parents

Annual art show of the kindergarten class at Christ Episcopal Day School took place March 10 with parents of the pupils and friends invited to an open house for the occasion. Each child had 10 pictures and ceramics on display. Vocal selections were presented by the class as well as the eighth grade girls.

Mrs. Adair James, coordinator of elementary instruction in the Gulfport schools, spoke and refreshments were served by Mesdames James Senter, D. R. Wilcox, Currie, Lassere and H. Turnipseed.

The pre-school department visited the Happy Chick and Bunny Farm of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mays this Tuesday. Started as a 4-H project for the May children, it specializes now in rabbits for food, laboratory and breeding stock. Accompanying the youngsters were the teachers, Mrs. L. R. Stehling and Mrs. Harold Torgersen, assisted by Mrs. D. E. Gardner, J. Des Angles and Rev. Charles R. Johnson.

In by-gone years Easter weekend was greeted with more fervency hereabouts than almost any other holiday. We know this year the holy day will as always be observed reverently, and those who denied themselves certain pleasures during the 40 days of Lent will welcome it eagerly and in some cases thirstily, but, due to the NASA induced population explosion, the annual influx will have less effect financially than in previous years.

Heretofore certain sections of the area became almost ghost towns the day after Labor Day when summer residents locked up their homes for the season and didn't return to life until Easter brought about their return. The number of permanent residents has been increasing steadily for the past several years and many spend almost every weekend here regardless of the weather, but seven or eight years ago one could toss a rock the length of Coleman Avenue on a winter Saturday and not chance hitting a living thing with the possible exception of a dog or two, now almost every weekday looks like Fourth of July of former days! We want to warmly welcome all who are returning, but the point we're attempting to get over is now we can love you for your company, not just for revenue fattening local tills!

About the newcomers

We'll start off by welcoming some most interesting newcomers, Mr. and Mrs. William Overall and children Joe, 16, Peggy 15 and Linda 6. Mr. Overall, retired from the Navy, is employed at Chrysler. They purchased the property on Lower Bay Road formerly owned by Dan Gilman and are busily planting their first crops. In fact Mrs. Overall has become quite proficient in driving a tractor. The Overalls moved here from Pensacola, Fla., but spent several years in Ireland where they acquired two beautiful genuine Irish setters. We'll have to view the extensive renovations to the house, but think we'll wait until the vegetable crop comes in as Mrs. Overall says they've planted enough to feed half the community!

Greetings and congratulations

Double birthday greetings go to Charlie Mollere and son Otto who celebrated at a family party on the patio of Kitty and Otto's new home Sunday afternoon.

Gordon Gleim is also in line for birthday wishes. His was either Sunday or Monday, the confusion ensuing from the fact that the family bible lists the date as the 22nd, the doctor's records have it the following day.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brockman are also in line for congratulations, having been married 50 years last week. We purposely didn't state that they celebrated as Mrs. B. didn't want any fuss made and Mr. B. was unaware of the date himself.

Belated birthday greetings are on the way to Ogden Kergosien who celebrated March 15. Happy birthday wishes also go to A. H. Gerhardt of New Orleans who owns a summer home on Melody Lane. He'll cut his cake on April 8, and also receive this issue of the Echo as a birthday gift from a donor who remained anonymous, at least to us!

On the sick list

Osmond Blaise had surgery on his infected toe in New Orleans on Monday. Hope he's much better by now. Oren Seal has returned to Gulfview School where he's principal after being under the weather with a sore throat for a couple of days.

Sympathy is extended to Mildred (Mrs. Earl) Ramond on the death of her mother, Mrs. Vera Lundy who passed away suddenly at her Pass Christian home last Thursday.

Harry Favre is up and about but says he still has a constant headache as a result of the serious accident he and his parents had when returning home from New Orleans a couple of weeks ago. His father, Forrest, has been released from the hospital, but is far from well, and Mrs. Favre is still a hospital patient.

Jane Lindsey, who is a dietitian at a hospital in Longview, Texas, arrived home Friday to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lindsey.

Sorry to hear that Marie Lyons fell in the bathroom of the Richmond, Va. home of her son and suffered a fractured arm and finger and a gash in head. It was most unfortunate as she was just beginning to fully recover from surgery to correct a calcium deficiency, which took place at Mayo Clinic last summer.

Dr. and Mrs. Urban Stork braved foul weather to drive to Waveland from their Evansville, Ind., home last Thursday. They're thoroughly enjoying a two week vacation at their Beach Blvd. home.

Larry, Rex and Lennie Necaise of DeLisle were guests of their aunt and uncle, Margie and Sidney Woods last week.

A group of friends and relatives shored newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Lachner in Lakeshore last Saturday night.

Stork hovers in area

The stork will be a busy bird in the next few months. Betty and Clyde Lachner are expecting in June and Ann and Ray Stiefel will welcome their ninth come summer.

Another birthday wish goes to Dan Sellen who cut his cake on Sunday. Daughter Doris and three of the children came over for the event; husband Baldwin remained in New Orleans to nurse a case of measles. Mary Helen's, not his!

The Ray Gordons are grandparents for the 11th time. Son John and Mrs. Gordon are parents of a brand new daughter to be christened Elizabeth.

Helene and Charles Mitchell fortunately emerged unscathed from an automobile accident in New Orleans last Thursday, but were forced to remain carless for a week due to extensive damages to their automobile.

The D. T. Mooneys arrived for the weekend preparing to open their Beach Blvd. home for the season. Ida and Harry Mooney also escaped from the Crescent City for a couple of the fact that Eunice Anderson rolled up a 207 game in Miss bowling competition last Thursday is quite an accomplishment, but more amazing is the fact that she did it with just about the most badly burned fingers we've seen in ages! The mishap occurred when boiling sugar syrup scalded her hands while she was making candy the same day. She'd better watch her team mates—they might just keep something hot around to try and get her to duplicate the feat!

Get well wishes go to Bess Wagner who has had a terrible cold for weeks, to Mitch Mitchell who is undergoing treatment for an ulcer in Veterans Hospital in Biloxi and to Gloria Peterson who had a series of tests in Hancock General last week.

Mrs. Frank Embury is under going treatments in Gulfport Memorial Hospital.

Another anniversary, Malsie and Ducre Bourgeois observed their 34th wedding anniversary last Thursday.

Happy birthday wishes go to Nell (Mrs. Eddie) Bourgeois who will celebrate by escaping from the kitchen on that night, March 30, and dining out.

Jane Stiefel will be announcing her engagement before too long—Maurice Oliver presented her with a cedar chest for her birthday.

Sports scene

Local fishing conditions being under par, Pat Garcia took himself off to Wiggins last week and returned with a huge mess of crappie, pronounced croppie and in these parts frequently referred to as sac-a-lait! The Robert Snubblfields didn't leave town and returned with fish from the sand pit pond. Ducks apparently aren't in season as numerous small black fowls swim brazenly along the seawall flaunting their freedom!

Bird banter

Ann Langley saw a bird on the pavement in front of Waveland Drug Friday and picked it up thinking it was Ann Lynch's escaped finch. She held it in her hand petting it until someone informed her it was an unusually elusive humming bird. Brewster Mollere now has it in a cage and it's thriving on a sugar and water diet!

Barbara Fayard is in Arkansas visiting her fiancé's family. We know he's a lieutenant and his name is Will but will have to await further details.

Horace Kergosien says he can take a heart attack or two, but his present affliction, a real bad cold, is just about to get him! (Cont. on Page 9.)

Election laws

Last year's elections pointed up the fact that election laws which work pretty satisfactorily in a one-party situation leave something to be desired when the ugly face of permanent competition rears its head.

(Perhaps it's too early to classify the Republican Party as permanent competition in Mississippi, but last year its candidates did make creditable showings for state offices and some local ones and in their rush to change the election laws the Democrats certainly indicate they fear for the future.)

There is some merit in the Democrats' contention that it is unfair for their candidates to have rough first and second primaries and then find themselves up against a Republican who got his party's nomination without opposition and without leaving intra-party wounds. The other loophole in the state law lets an independent jump in the race at the last minute long after primaries have been held and long after candidates of political parties had to make their intentions known.

Although we concur that independents should have to get in the swim when other candidates do and that some other changes in the election laws should be made, we don't go along with Gov. Paul B. Johnson's proposals for revamping Mississippi's election machinery. We would even go along with what our golfing opponents call a "fair advantage" for the party in power, that just being the way things work out, but the governor's proposals go far beyond giving a "fair advantage" to the Democrats. As yesterday's news story starts off they "would cripple the budding Republican party".

Taken singly perhaps each change would be justified. As a whole we have no doubt of the scheme's unconstitutionality. Each senator and legislator takes an oath to support the constitution, United States as well as Mississippi, and we don't see how any can in good faith go along with these changes as a group.

Letters to The Editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:
Arguments and hearings continue in Jackson over a bill to be introduced regulating the taking of menhaden (pogies) north of the intra-coastal waterway.
"This bill will ruin us," say the pogie people. "We only catch trash fish. We do no harm to commercial or sport fish."
"Not so," say the fishermen. "Anything caught in those big purse seines goes down the drain."
Because neither side can agree and to prevent possible violence, why not place the menhaden operations under the supervision of the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission. Shrimp, oysters and all salt water fish are supervised and regulated. Why not menhaden fishing?

At the State Convention of the Garden Clubs of Mississippi, Inc., in Columbus last week, the Bay-Waveland Garden Club was awarded a blue ribbon for "publicity". This award is given in competition with all clubs in the state. A scrap book containing news items and pictures of various club activities is judged for interest and quality.
It was through your generous cooperation and Miss Veronica Mohr's scrapbook the club was made the recipient of this honor.

Many thanks, it has been a pleasure working with you and your staff.

Selfhood

The brightness of God's glory has to shine upon the earth. The full and running over must be known as man's own worth.

For I know man is that glory shining ever into life. Knowing only His bright presence as man's glow that quies strife. For the ego ever shines. Showing forth its full control. Over every dream of man. Every belief in mortal soul. Shining into God's full glory. Blending thought in one great call.

Telling man there is one ego. That is God, the All in All.

Planning body eyes skeeters

Mosquitoes, legislation and the progress at NASA Mississippi Test Operations were top items of discussion at the second meeting of the Regional Planning Commission here Tuesday night.

The commission is comprised of representatives from the NASA-MTO impact area, its membership comes from Harrison, Hancock and Pearl River Counties and St. Tammany Parish, La. It was organized Jan. 30 to advise in the orderly development of zoning, schools, housing, water systems, sanitation and mosquito control.

Chris M. Elmore, Gulf Coast Mosquito Control Commission, told of plans to combat mosquitoes in the area, George A. Broom, member of the St. Tammany Parish police jury, spoke on steps his parish is taking to get a mosquito control program started.

Joseph V. Colson, president of the commission, brought the group up to date on Mississippi House Bill 393 which will give the planning group "official" status. Colson said legislators from Harrison, Hancock and Pearl River Counties had assured him that they were behind the bill which is now in committee.

Mack Herring, public affairs officer for MTO, gave the Commission latest employment figures at the NASA test site and told the group that NASA has awarded some $120 million in construction and procurement contracts for work at the test site.

POLITICOS SPEAK

BY RALPH SOWELL JR.

During the campaign of 1963, and even as late as January of 1964, the big question in Mississippi's financial picture was: "Will it be necessary to raise taxes?"

The state no longer has that problem. Now, the question is: "What tax or taxes will be raised?"

Two weeks ago, Sen. John Clark Love, chairman of the joint committee of the Senate and House which was appointed to study the possibilities of new revenue, said his committee was considering three sources—a sales tax hike, a two-cent-a-bottle levy on soft drinks, and a tax on interest.

The soft drink tax would funnel an estimated $22 million into the general fund. There has been no estimate of what the possible interest levy would bring.

Sales tax increase

Last week, Love's committee recommended a one-half cent increase in the sales tax which would produce about $22 million "new money."

On the heels of the announcement, Sen. Noel Monaghan of Tapelo proposed a one-cent increase in the three cent sales tax for an estimated $44 million additional revenue. He said that the one-half cent increase would not do the job, because it did not provide for funds for teachers.

Opposition formed immediately to the full cent raise. Rep. Joe Bailey of Coffeeville said he opposed it because "it taxes the people least able to pay."

Revenue bills require a three-fifths majority to both chambers for passage.

Rep. Alton Phillips of Macon would increase the state's seven-cent gasoline tax by one cent in a bill introduced last week. The increase is designed to finance a long-range, $150-million road construction program.

Gov. Johnson recommended a joint committee to study state salaries. It will be headed by Rep. Wilburn Hooker of Lexington and the group is to determine whether departments are over-staffed or offering duplicated services.

Gov. Johnson said last week he is studying his proposal for police power with a view to "diluting" his original plan for unrestricted authority.

Sen. Corbett Partridge of Schlatter called on the Legislature to "get rid" of University of Mississippi Professor, Dr. James Silver, who has "repeatedly criticized state racial policies."

Action by the solons on 21 election bills designed to tighten state election laws and make it harder for Republicans and independent candidates to run is expected this week, after the Senate Elections Committee approved the measures last week.

Liquor bill stopped

The liquor question was stalled again when minority forces tried to bring the bill to the floor of the Senate after the bill failed the Senate Committee by a 4-2 vote. Sen. Howard McDonnell opened debate on the controversial local option liquor bill but withdrew his motion when foes launched a move to delay consideration indefinitely.

Another controversial bill was stopped in the Senate by a parliamentary request. The lengthy 135-page uniform commercial code bill was not discussed after Sen. Jack Tucker of Tunica asked that the document be read.

The 11th week of the 1964 Legislature was brought to a close when about 75 of the legislators took a two-day tour of the Delta to inspect industrial and agricultural advancement of the fertile region.

Hancock County

Rep. Walter Phillips of Bay St. Louis was one of the authors of three bills introduced in the Mississippi House of Representatives last week.

House Bill 489 would permit the Board of Trustees of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College District to borrow funds under certain conditions.

Another bill would provide base period employers with notice of initial benefit determinations and a benefit-ratio system for determining modified rates for employers.

Phillips was also an introducer of a bill which would promote the economic development of Mississippi and determine the public necessity of creating a governmental subdivision of the state to be known as the Pearl River Basin Development District.

Sen. James Rester of Leetown was one of the authors of bills which would make an appropriation for the support of vocational and technical education for the fiscal biennium 1964-66, and a bill which would fix the rate of taxation on state income taxes at the pre-1960 level, for the purposes of helping balance the state budget for the 1964-68 administration.

Teen Times

Spring has arrived, this fact evidenced by the abundance of beach parties and picnics which began last Wednesday night. It was a long weekend as public school students and those from Pearl River Junior College had no classes from noon Wednesday until Monday morning, due to teacher's meeting and spring holidays in that order. SJA and Stanislaus girls and boys will get their Easter holidays beginning at noon next Wednesday and classes won't resume until the following Wednesday, April 1.

Back to the beach parties. Yvonne Schwartz hosted one on Wednesday night. There was another near the Municipal pier in the Bay Friday night, but we don't know who gave that. Nicky Kingston was host at a very lively blowout on the beach at Henderson Point on Saturday night, and members of the Catholic Young Adult group enjoyed a picnic in the Pass on Sunday.

Dina Snellgrove and Joan Burnette were busy selling tickets for the fried chicken dinner sponsored by the Methodist Youth Fellowship on Saturday night.

Another large party was held at the Legion home on Friday night when pretty Patsy Elliott celebrated her 16th birthday.

We wished Lorraine de Montuzin a happy birthday last week but got her complete guest list too late for last week's column. Those helping surprise her at a dinner party at the Broadwater Beach Hotel were Dale Russell, Ellen McDonald, Judy Lauderdale, Betty Hill, Piji White, Becky Adams, Kathleen Maloney, Sherry and Lottie Wood, Mrs. Richard Shadoin, Mrs. John McDonald, Mrs. Dan Russell and her mother, Mrs. Rene de Montuzin.

We're way behind on these, but want to send belated birthday greetings to Tom Boyd who was 15 on March 5; to Kathleen Maloney whose homelike classmates surprised her with a cake on her 15th birthday, March 6, and to Brenda Fricke, her mother and aunt gave a surprise party in her honor on her 16th birthday, March 6.

My most faithful Teen Times reporter Jeannie Rutherford has discovered what a task it is to dig up news for this column and asks us to once again remind all Bay High students to let her know when you celebrate a birthday, have a party, take a trip, win an award, anything that's in the least bit newsworthy.

Susie Clark was elected program chairman at a recent FHA sub-district meeting at Moss Point.

Marye Hoagland wasn't taking any chances on being late purchasing her Easter outfit. She had it a full month before the big day!

CYO members are now taking part in bicycle "hikes" each Sunday and Lucette Worrell has bruises to prove it. . . she took a tumble on the way to last Sunday's ride!

Why is Jimmy Austin so anxiously counting the days during this particular six week period?

Aggie Orr and Ronnie Butkin went all the way to Jackson to attend a record hop a couple of weeks ago.

Randle Grigaby of Waveland, a sophomore at PRJC, spoke on vocational training at senior day on March 5.

Henry Heitzman was elected robe chairman when the PRJC Chorus elected officers recently.

Lynn Prosser, a freshman at the University of Southern Mississippi spent the weekend at home.

Romance still runs rampant at Pearl River—new twosomes include Nell McCormick and Jimmy Loup and Carole Magee and Randle Grigaby. Still going steady are Dena Burge and Clem Penrose, Virginia Walters and Kenny Kothmann, Bob Murrage and Joe ? and Irene Thomas

Heart Sunday girl due 2nd surgery

Michelle Jeanne Camel, who was the first Sweetheart of Heart Sunday for New Orleans and underwent heart surgery in 1961 when she was one year old, is now ready for her second operation which will take place in the next several weeks.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester J. Camel of New Orleans and great granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Wardell of Felicity Street. Her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Camel of St. Charles Street.

Happy Easter! For the benefit of new readers we'll rehash the blackberry-dewberry winter bit. First everyone around here calls dewberries blackberries... granted they're the same color, but a blackberry grows on a bush, a dewberry on a vine. And the winter part is just superstition, but coincidentally the last chilly snap every spring occurs just as these blossoms burst into full bloom!

Registration for ball play April 11, 18

Registration dates for Little and Pony League teams this summer have been scheduled by the Parks and Playgrounds Commission. Mrs. Theo Tudury, director, has announced.

Boys interested in playing Little League ball are to sign Saturday morning, April 11, at the ball field, Uman and Dunbar Avenue. Older boys are to register for Pony play the following Saturday, April 18.

Managers are sorely needed for Little League teams and sponsors for the Pony League, Mrs. Tudury said.

She also reported the net has arrived for the new tennis court being constructed by the Parks and Playgrounds Commission on Blaise Avenue to the rear of St. Stanislaus College. The court should be ready for the start of that season.

The commission has completed repairs to municipal pier, including replacement of lights. Mrs. Tudury expressed hope the public will take better care of it this year.
